

iClassPro

iClassPro is a growing company in Longview looking to hire additional Software Support Specialists.

Our business is booming and moving into new products and markets and we need a bigger team with awesome interpersonal and technical skills to help us realize these goals. We are smart, interesting, and sometimes nerdy people solving big and small problems. We are looking for innovative, high-energy, and intelligent people to join our team. We offer competitive pay and benefits in a very friendly and relaxed work environment.

We have just moved into our new state of the art facility which includes a gym for ping pong, basketball, etc. It is an exciting time to join us.

Check us out and see what iClassPro has to offer you and your future!
